

Type of question:

Always check the literature for the details!
 (*): requires homogeneous variances (F test)
 (): check for normally distributed residuals
 () requires similarly shaped distributions

If you have data for which no test seems available, try to transform your data.